POPE HONORS SLATTERY AND PHELAN

Harvard and Tech Benefit by Edmund Barbour Will

ARE MADE DAUGHTER KNIGHTS IS GIVEN BY PIUS $700,000

Francis E. Slattery and James P. Phelan Honored by Pontiff in Rome

Francis E. Slattery of Boston and James P. Phelan of Lynn have been made Knights of the Holy Sepulchre by Pope Pius, according to cablegrams received from Rome today.

The honors were conferred at the suggestion of Cardinal O'Connell, with whom the party went to Rome in connection with the Holy Year ceremonies.

The men thus honored were among the best known Catholic laymen in the East.

Mr. Slattery is a lawyer, prominent in laymen's work and Catholic charities, and husband of the president of the Catholic Women's Club. Mr. Phelan is a banker and broker, equally prominent in civic work, charitable enterprises and social service.

The knighthoods conferred today bring the total of Holy Year Catholic knighthoods recently up to three. Walter Guyette of Lowell was made a knight commander of the Order of St. Gregory the Great a few days ago.

Word was received today that Cardinal O'Connell has cancelled his trip to Ostia in the province of Rome, because of the illness of Cardinal Canali, who was to accompany him.

REPORT AGAINST PLAN FOR PENSION SYSTEM

An adverse report on the petition of Wendell P. Thore for the establishment of a State non-contributory pension system was made today by the Committee on Social Welfare to the House of Representatives. The same committee voted against sending up a State old age pension fund.

GIRL BADLY HURT ON YALE JOY RIDE

(International Newsphoto Photo)

Photograph taken in hospital of Yetta Gitlin, 18, of New Haven, who is suffering from a fractured skull following a merry party in which three youths and three girls were thrown into a ditch by an auto crash near the college town. This girl's plight may cause the expulsion of two wealthy Yale students.

STILL ANXIOUS OVER LORD CURZON'S HEALTH

London, March 11.—Lord Curzon, who recently underwent an operation, passed a fair night. Although his condition continues to cause anxiety, his general strength is being maintained.

GIRL TRIES TO DIE IN CELL

Springfield, March 11.—Life had never given pretty Edith Reed, 24, a square deal, and today in court, where she was arraigned for violating her probation, the judge fined her $100. Edith didn't have the money and went to jail.

An hour after she had been taken to her cell she was found unconscious on the floor. Rushed to the Mercy Hospital, she was found to be suffering from hemorrhage of mercury poisoning. She has little chance for recovery.

In the girl's stocking the police found the remaining ten of a dozen poison tablets.

BURIAL URN 2,000 YEARS OLD DISCOVERED

Phoenix, Ariz., March 11.—A burial urn, estimated by archaeologists to be 2,000 years old, has been unearthed north of Phoenix. According to Dr. O. A. Tunney, professor of archaeology, it contained the ashes of a child.

MOTHER AND THREE CHILDREN IN SCHOOL

M. A. or Ma? Marriage or a career? Which shall it be? "Good!" replies Mrs. Clara M. Bruce, educator, mother of three children, and student at the Boston University Law School.

"It is no longer a question of a woman raising a family or pursuing a profession," says she. "Women can do both."

And as a believer in her own doctrine, Mrs. Bruce, with a daughter at Radcliffe, two boys at the Cambridge Latin High, and the management of a home, is preparing to enter an entirely new field of activity at an age when most of her sisters are becoming housewives.

ALL ATTEND SCHOOL.

Mother, daughter, sons—all four may be seen any week day morning leaving home together, each going to his respective place of learning. And not the least eager and prepared is mother.

And as studying is shared by every member of the household so is cooking and housekeeping. Hence, it is no uncommon sight to find the evening meal if it happens to be the first one home. In a word, Mrs. Bruce can help Clara or the boys solve a problem in algebra or economics and on their part can turn out a steak or a lemon pie as good as mother.

How has she achieved this enviable result, Mrs. Bruce declares to be no secret nor beyond the reach of any other woman who is willing to work for it.

"Mental alertness and intelligent motherhood go hand in hand," she says. In addition to devoting sixteen hours a day on law, she reads books sports that she may converse intelligently with Yvett, fourteen, whose interest just now is centered in Jack Dempsey and " Babe" Ruth.

PATIENCE REQUIRED. "Bringing up a child requires infinite patience and imagination. The parent must adjust himself to every period of the child's life and must grow as the child grows," she says. "I have always been my children's playmate."

No nagging and no rods, have been her formulae. "It is brutal and pitiful to see a full-grown person striking a young, defenseless child. If a mother would be her child's friend she cannot take advantage of it, nor put herself in a superior place."

An early marriage and an early motherhood, after marriage is her advice to ambitious young women. This will bring a mother mentally closer to her children and have her free at an early age.

"What chance has a youngster of twelve of being understood by a parent of forty, who has had no previous experience with children, or a girl of twenty by a mother of fifty who has lost contact with young folk? Yet this must be the consequence of a late marriage," she asserts.

Mrs. Bruce, who has in her possession a letter written by her grandmother, in which the growing popularity of the waltz is looked upon with horror as a menace to the morals of the young generation.

Irene and Joseph Shapiro of No. 22 Walnut road, East Somerville, who mourn the disappearance of their pet Boston terrier "Buddy."

A Boston terrier that comes when called, East Somerville, you call him "Buddy." If he is not busy chasing cats, he strangely misses Joseph Shapiro that he is not being detained against his will.

MAKES RESTITUTION FOR POSTOFFICE THEFT

Pittsburg, March 12.—Waldo E. Oxford, twenty-two years, employed at the Pittsburg postoffice, has made restitution for the shortage in his accounts. Postmaster John O. Phelan announced today, Oxford, who was discharged from the service about a month ago, following detection of alleged thefts, was indicted yesterday by the federal grand jury. He is on six counts, alleging embezzlement of $4,320.

MINISTERS TO WATCH CAPE RUM ROUTE

Bourne Pastors, Finding the Town Without Police, to Be on Guard for Bootleggers

Four Protestant ministers and a Christian Scientist, reader will be surprised to learn, are to be the judges and night sticks of police officers and will endeavor to stem the flood of liquor pouring into Massachusetts from off Cape Cod.

The town of Bourne, through which all liquor coming from the Cape must pass, is without police protection of any kind. There are no funds to pay the chief of police and his seven patrolmen and the police department has resigned en masse.

The ministers have volunteered their services and from this time on, they will virtually have charge of policing the town.

MINISTERS ON FORCE. While the ministers are agreed to look after general law and order in Bourne, the liquor caravans that daily ply between the Cape and other points in the northern part of the State will receive the particular attention of the volunteer ministers of the law.

The new police force is composed of the Rev. George W. Manning, pastor of the Bourne Methodist Episcopal Church; Mrs. Eva Telford, pastor of the Bourne Baptist Church; the Rev. Oliver Bell, pastor of the Bourne Methodist Church; William F. Smith, reader of the Bourne Baptist Church; and the pastor of the Christian Methodist Church.

The Rev. Mr. Manning, who during the war commanded a company of home guards that patrolled a section of the coast in Rhode Island, is the moving spirit of the unique project.

PROHIBITION ENDORSED. When it was discovered that only $400 was available to pay for the town's police protection for the next nine months, the Rev. Mr. Manning promptly visited his colleagues of the board of selectmen. He agreed to have the ministers serve as an advisory committee to the selectmen in the matter of law and order and to do active police duty when occasion demanded.

Meyer, Jr., Approved
Winthrop, D. D. March 12.—The re-appointment of Eugene Meyer, Jr., of New York, as director of the War Finance Corporation, was approved by the Senate.

ROSE FRITZ AGREES TO RESTITUTION

Rose Fritz, clerk who stole $27,000 from employer, was put on probation on consideration that she pay back $1,500 to her employer.

Rose Fritz, twenty-two-year-old clerk, who stole $27,000 from her employer, will not have to spend any time in jail for the crime if she behaves herself. Judge Broadhurst has placed the girl on probation, with the understanding that she shall repay her employer the sum of $1,500.

At the girl's trial it was brought out that Miss Fritz used a part of the money to entertain her employer and his wife at dinner and at theatre parties. Four attorneys testified that Miss Fritz was mentally unbalanced, while the same number of experts, testifying for the State, held that she was perfectly sane.

COMASSET NEED NOT PAY FOR DEAD BEES

Judge Sisk Sets Aside Town Meeting's $1,500 Gift to Owner

The town of Cohasset is not going to be stuck by Jewett A. Litchfield's bees. Judge Sisk decided in Dedham court today in upholding a bill in equity by Cohasset residents.

At the town meeting in Cohasset last March Litchfield related the sad story of how his bees were stung their way into a neighboring orchard, which had been sprayed by the town of Cohasset to kill destructive insects. The bees got loaded up with arsenic of lead instead of honey and started back to Mr. Litchfield's hives. Death overtook the busy bees and down they fell, to be stowed away in the craws of 23 of Mr. Litchfield's chickens. The bees proved indigestible and soon the chickens were poking their toes heavenward.

Ten of the residents who failed to vote over Mr. Litchfield's tale of woe filed the bill in equity restraining the town from paying the money to Litchfield. In upholding this bill Judge Sisk said he did not feel the town or town officers had been at all negligent in the matter and could not be held responsible for bees that got tagged up in prohibition honey.

Vesuvius Snow Covered. Naples, March 12.—The unaccounted sight of a snow-covered Mt. Vesuvius greeted the Neapolitans today. An almost unprecedented snowfall fell during the night, covering the streets and houses.

FRENCH COUNT KILLED IN DUEL WITH SWORDS

Paris, March 12.—M. Debernis, a French count, was killed by Ramon Zanco, Spanish count at Launce, Morocco, in a duel fought with swords. The Count, who was the superior of the African properties of the Duke de Guise, had criticized the efforts of the Spanish army in Morocco.

PAYMASTER HELD UP, ROBBED OF PAYROLL

Trenton, N. J., March 12.—His masterly hands today held up two employees of Cochran Drugs Company, and stole the weekly payroll. The thugs also relieved Walter Duran, the paymaster, of his wallet. All that was taken from Harry Carman, who accompanied the paymaster, was a lead pencil.

LETTER READY TO ANSWER RUM CHARGE

Beverly, March 12.—Joseph Letter, Washington and Chicago magnate, indicted for alleged liquor law violations following raids on the wine cellar of his summer home here, is ready to appear when wanted. It was announced today.

William H. Mcweeney, counsel for Letter, stated he was secured by telephone that the former was king would go to Boston whenever necessary. Mcweeney said Letter expressed great surprise when told he had been indicted together with several of his employees for illegal possession, intent to smuggle and facilitating and concealing transportation of liquor.

Attorney Mcweeney said Joseph Collins, a chauffeur employed by Letter, would also be on hand when wanted to answer to the indictments brought by the Federal grand jury. The indictment of Percy Huxley, superintendent of Letter estate, and the man who discovered the liquor thefts, was a great surprise to people in Beverly and Salem. It was due to Huxley that a truck load of liquor was captured by the police after it had been taken from the Letter place.

WINE IS 'RAISIN CAKE' IN NEW 'SHORT BIBLE'

New York, March 12.—A new Bible, based on the oldest Hebrew text available and from which are eliminated references to wine familiar in the King James version, has been published by Charles Scribner's Sons in two volumes, known as the shorter Bible.

The quotation in other versions about David dealing out "a cake of bread and a good piece of flesh and a flagon of wine" appears in the shorter Bible as "a roll of bread, a portion of meat and a cake of raisins."

The prophet Isaiah's reference to the children of Israel looking to other gods and "loving flagons of wine" appears in the new Bible as "although they turn to other gods and loved to eat raisin cakes at their festivities."

This shorter Bible, however, contains the phrases, "wine is a mocker," "strong drink is turbulent," "Be not drunk with wine when it inebriates," and "be careful not to drink any wine or intoxicating drink."

MARY WOODSON'S PLEA FOR HUSBAND FAILS
New York, March 12.—Legal argument, feminine tears and protest failed to win freedom today for Jack Woodson. His wife, the former Mary Woodson of Washington, D. C., said she was a victim of his love and was not to be held responsible for his actions. The court, Judge of the Court of Special Sessions took official cognizance of the report that the defendant had been driven from an Annie Mitchell, whom a Jack Woodson married in 1911. Before was re-examined to full until Monday, but he was released.

JAPANESE BUILDING
9 LINERS FOR PACIFIC
 Seattle, March 12.—The Seattle "Times" Oriental edition says that nine liners are to be built by Japan for the next two years to be added to the Japanese fleet plying in the trans-Pacific trade between Seattle and the Pacific coast. The cost of the fleet was estimated at $75,000,000.
 The government has planned to route the Shimon and Tokyo Kisen Kaisha lines.

WIMAN SENTENCED
AS CHILD BEATER
 New York, March 12.—Mrs. Ernesta Wiman, fifty-five years old, was sentenced to three months in the workhouse to Special Sessions on her conviction of beating a five-year-old orphan girl, Florence Wolf. The child had been placed in her home No. 1417 White place, the place for handling by the United States, which maintains a place for the child in the street and American avenue.

MIDGETS ENTERTAIN VETS

Disabled war veterans in the West Roxbury Hospital cheered Irving's Imperial Midgets who made up part of the cast which appeared in the Boston Evening American show for the veterans. Several other headliners at the Orpheum Theatre also appeared. "Jimmy" Gallagher (inset) and his noted orchestra furnished the music for the affair.

Big Decrease in Hub Fire Loss for February

Fire Commissioner Clyma, in a report to Mayor Curley, states that the fire loss in Boston during the month of February amounted to $186,000, as against $275,000 for the same period in 1924.

Permits for new building operations in the city for last month amounted to $4,580,000, or $600,000 less than the corresponding month a year ago, which was the largest in the history of the city.

the boys, and dash back into the keep their scheduled engagements. EAGER FOR "JIMMY."
 They were very eager to appear at the "hub." In fact, Jimmy Gallagher was no eager to see the "boys" who looked forward to his coming that he was hailed by a traffic officer. The boys grinned when he heard Jimmy's reason for hurrying, and sent him on his way with a "remember do not act and shake hands with me to the boys."

DISABLED VETS MADE HAPPY BY CONCERT

Cheers and laughter were in order at the World War Veterans' Hospital in West Roxbury. The long days passed killing time were forgotten by the "vets" while the music was dispensed by entertainers provided by the Boston Evening American in its semi-monthly show at the "hub."

More than 200 disabled men cut aside their cares and all also to attend the American show. All of those who could, rose to cheer as the entertainers left. They even delayed their supper for half an hour to see all there was to see. "Jimmy" Gallagher, and his Chickering Orchestra furnished jazz music that had the "vets" shouting for a floor to dance on and partners to dance with. Nurses at the hospital "just couldn't stay away from the music and volunteered as partners."

B. & M. FREIGHT HOUSE SWEEP BY FIRE

Woodville, N. H., March 13.—The Boston and Maine railroad freight house here was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin early today. Prompt efforts of the Woodville fire department prevented the spread of the flames to the Armour Packing Company's plant, the building of the Holbrook Grocery Company, and stores and residences nearby. Firemen were hampered by low water pressure and a temperature of 12 degrees. The building was used as a storehouse for local freight, and also freight transferred en route. The freight house was one-story high, built of wood, one hundred forty feet long and twenty-four feet wide. Many loaded freight cars on tracks adjacent were shifted out of danger. A freight house on the same site was destroyed by fire in March, 1923.

Wife Too Talkative With Her Fingers, Says Deaf Mute

Cleveland, O., March 13.—Are marriages and arguments linked together inseparably? Yes, if you take the written word of Charles J. Wachuta, who today filed suit for divorce from his wife, Isabelle, now in Detroit with her mother. Both husband and wife are deaf mutes. Wachuta, who is employed as a glazier, blamed his marital woes upon too much arguing. Friction from flying fingers, he wrote, warned the domestic air most uncomfortably.

CHARGES "BUMS" GET FAVORS IN TAUNTON

Taunton, March 13.—Investigation by a special council committee of the charges made by City Councilman Arthur C. Staples that "bums" are living in comfort in the City Home while worthy persons who have applied to the poor department for aid have been rejected, is expected to be begun here this week. Staples' attack is denied by other members of the council.

LOUIS LIPSKY TO TALK ON PALESTINE

"Hear the Voice of Palestine" will be the topic of a lecture by Louis Lipsky tonight from the pulpit of the Blue Hill Avenue Synagogue and hundreds are planning to listen to one of the most ardent supporters and fighters for Zionism in the world organization can claim.

Jacob Rabinowitz, acting president of the congregation, due to Nathan Pinsker's absence, is in charge of the arrangements and will preside.

"The Jew through all the ages has been a proverbially moral man," Alexander Brit, editor of the Jewish Advocate, told the members of the Boston University Menorah Society, who held their meeting at the M. H. A. building on Beaver street, Roxbury.

In his address, deliberately and unambiguously, Brit stated that which is the embodiment of a true Jew. "The lax, indifferent, milk and water Jew, vicious, hypocritical, the unwilling and apathetic Jew, who have neither spirit, sense or sympathy in matters that relate to Jewish life and progress are a failure in any success they may achieve."

"These are critical days in Jewish life. They are days of material excesses and of spiritual negligence when influences such as were never known in Jewish life are making themselves very evident, days when we can no longer say that certain immoralities are altogether absent from the Jewish household."

Jewish conditions in Eastern Europe will be the nucleus of an address by Abraham Goldberg of New York, Jewish orator and Zionist leader who will speak to the congregation Agudath Israel, Woodrow avenue, Dorchester, next Sunday evening.

Mr. Goldberg is now bringing his views before the American Jews after a comprehensive and thorough study of European Jewish life during an extended visit which brought him into intimate contact with all European leaders and movements of Jewish character.

Especially concerned with the problem of immigration which has become a potent and urgent question with the Jew since this country has definitely restricted mass immigration, Mr. Goldberg will speak at length upon the issue.

Preceding the Dorchester meeting, Mr. Goldberg will address a meeting in Malden at the Capitol Theatre. In addition, other speakers will include Rabbi B. Boruchoff of Malden and Samuel Kalesky.

This is part of the drive for $250,000 now in progress under the direction of the New England Joint Campaign of which Louis E. Kirshen is honorary chairman.

Sisterhood Temple Beth El of Dorchester will sponsor an annual Purim dance to be held tomorrow night in the new Beth El auditorium. Refreshments and dancing will be featured with entertainment by the dance band. A feature of the affair is the distribution of Purim goodies.

Mrs. D. Klein, chairman of the dance, promises an unusual program. The reception committee includes Misses B. Stoller, M. Simberg, I. Saklad, I. Stone, B. Parry, D. Lander, R. Gah, H. Glick, B. Sturwits, D. Rosen, L. N. Levine and H. Butters.

The sisterhood is now arranging details for a bridge whistle to be held on March 30 for which tickets may be obtained from Mrs. I. Saklad, 20-25 Abbott street, Dorchester.

The Chelsea T. M. H. A. will also give vent to the spirit of Purim with a festive and gala evening at the Williams School Hall Sunday evening and in addition a lecture on "The Fathers and Mosaic of Today" will be given by Abraham Albert. A musical program has been arranged.

Tease an Oyster and you get a Pearl

Sounds ridiculous but it's true. The Japanese have been doing it for years. They place a bit of grit in a pearl oyster's shell and the irritation causes a fluid to flow around it that builds a pearl.

Sometimes you can tease somebody into buying you a pearl necklace. But most always you have to pay for it yourself. That's why you'll be glad to learn how easily you can finance the purchase of any of the fine necklaces we have in stock. Simply pay us $1.00—wear your necklace and enjoy it—and pay the balance as low as 50c per week. We have pearl necklaces in stock with white gold and diamond clasps from $5.00 to $50.00.

Plan to Purge Friday the 13th of Evil

By PAUL WHELTON

In connection with the crime wave, something was discovered today that couldn't be blamed on the "Lone Wolf," and, oddly enough, the discovery was Friday the Thirteenth.

Owing not only to carelessness, but to gross mismanagement, Friday the Thirteenth was placed every once in a while in all union calendars, except maybe occasionally which would get the unlucky time down, say to a minimum.

Along this line, it is recommended to the Board of Control of Weeks and some Sundays that Friday the Thirteenth could be completely often becomes cheerful, but the chap under the ladder merely laughed heartily and said: "Want it lucky it wasn't beer?"

Not to be outdone in courtship, the painter went over and hit a traffic cop to show his pleasure.

This idea of looking on the bright side of things has almost limitless possibilities, such as sometimes can be perceived by a city editor.

One city editor got a story on a Friday the Thirteenth about a man in Worcester found hanging in his empty coal bin. Immediately the thought came from him that the man had hung himself because it was Friday the Thirteenth and he was out of coal.

But it was discovered that the man used fuel oil in his house for heat and that he had hung himself in the living room, thus stealing a march.

Any way the month was July and few people, if any, had fires, because the temperature was almost 100.

The idea of looking at the silver lining can be carried out indefinitely, however, and one way with coal holes.

The city has been in need of larger and better coal holes for some time, but for the present we are told we will have to go with these we have.

A man on falling through a coal hole into a coal bin on Friday the Thirteenth could look around him and exclaim joyously: "I'm not going here I was going I've bin," thus saving the whole thing off with a laugh.

Friday should be walked up backwards on a day like today, however, because if the bad luck should trip up your feet and you fall down again, you'll be facing the situation.

For the same reason, no person falling out of a window of a high building should stop at the thirteenth floor, because somebody can see how this would exactly double the bad luck.

Anybody occupying the thirteenth chair at a dinner party is warned to be wary, because who knows whether stimulated from the sketchy publisher's thoughts through a new scheme that is almost good enough to have a patent applied for.

This scheme, which could be called "Plan 23," for instance, would be to call these days, like today, Friday, March 13th. This would appeal to those persons cynically referred to as "the gentler sex," and more so if it was called Ladies' Day.

Friday the Thirteenth is claimed to be unlucky except amongst many husbands and their trainers, both of whom laugh heartily in the secret that their anniversary is another day entirely.

The unlucky part comes from not looking at the silver lining, however, as for example the man that was walking under a ladder when a painter dropped his ball of paint on him.

Under these conditions a man

ORPHAN PROBE BARES THEFT OF GERMS

Shepherd Attended Lectures, Says Doctor Grilled on McClintock Death

Chicago, March 13.—Dr. C. C. Faiman, owner of the National University of Science, questioned in the corner's inquiry into the death from typhoid of William Nelson McClintock, multiple orphan, was said by State's attorney today to have admitted that value of typhoid germs was stolen from him a year ago last November.

It is announced Faiman said W. I. dim D. Shepherd, father and chief of McClintock's $1,000,000 estate, visited the school and took several sample lessons. He said Shepherd shortly afterward attended lectures on germs for about a week, but never said any words and never returned.

Shortly afterward, Faiman said, he looked in an incubator, where a supply of germ cultures was kept, and found three tubes missing, one of which he was sure contained typhoid bacilli.

During the time he attended the school, Faiman said, Shepherd manifested little interest in typhoid, while he was in class, but asked many questions about germ action after school was dismissed.

Prosecutors said they expected to summon Shepherd for questioning in connection with Faiman's story.

Conan Doyle Has Heard Dogs Bark at Seances

London, March 13 (A. P.).—Wherever men go when they die, they are accompanied by the souls of their dogs, according to Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

Not only do dogs possess souls and accompany men to the spirit world, but they carry with them the earthly attributes of cold, moist, soft paws and raucous barks.

"I did not believe men had souls until I was convinced by facts encountered in the study of Spiritualism," Doyle writes.

"The evidence regarding souls of men extends to animals. I have heard the barking of dogs in seances."

Conan Doyle has been a seance medium for many years, and he has written several books on the subject.

RIFF TRIBLESMEN FIRE ON BRITISH SHIP

Oblivious, March 13 (A. P.).—Rifle tribesmen today fired on the British ship Anlier, engaged in laying cables for the Eastern Telegraph Company off the African coast. The tribesmen threatened the loading of the British cables, but the Anlier was not damaged.

The British gunboat Bonifex later intervened, opening fire on the shore.

CHINESE REBEL CHIEF READY TO SEIZE CANTON

Amoy, China, March 13 (A. P.).—General Chen Chung-ling, a former governor of Kwangtung province and recent contender for the control of that province against the forces of the late Mr. Sun Yat-sen, it is reliably reported, has enlisted the support of the Chinese naval forces in these waters in his plan to capture Canton.

COMMON LAW WIFE TO ADMINISTER ESTATE

Providence, March 13 (A. P.).—Pepprell, common law wife of the late Edmund M. Pepprell, former forest warden of Warwick, was recognized by Judge James T. Lockwood in a decision in Warwick Court of Probate, when he appointed her administratrix of the Pepprell estate.

Colonel P. H. Quinn, counsel for the woman, produced evidence to show she had always been recognized as the wife of Pepprell. He also submitted copies of opinions rendered by the Rhode Island Supreme Court and the Municipal Court of Providence, in which the common-law wife was recognized as a legal heir.

PEACE PLAN GOT 'FIRST-CLASS FUNERAL'

Paris, March 12 (AP).—It was a first-class funeral, which took its toll of Europe, was the comment today of one of Premier Herriot's collaborators on British Foreign Secretary Chamberlain's assault upon the League security protocol before the League Council in Geneva.

Mr. Chamberlain's action brought great surprise throughout French official circles, where it was expected he would ask further postponement of action by the council on the universal pact without seeking to give it its death blow.

The debate on the protocol ended today with adoption of a proposition by Mr. Herriot, the Czechoslovakian Foreign Minister, to refer to the next assembly the declaration regarding the protocol made by Mr. Chamberlain and other League members.

Canada today officially notified the League that she cannot adhere to the League's security protocol, but is prepared to consider acceptance of compulsory jurisdiction by the world court of justice, with certain reservations, and is willing to participate in any general conference for reduction of armaments which does not involve prior acceptance of the protocol.

HARVARD POSITION FOR CITY CLUB'S STEWARD

The Boston Rotary Club's bulletin announces that Roy Westcott, manager of the Boston City Club, with special interest in the steward's department, has resigned his position to take a similar one as manager of the restaurants of Harvard University.

Harvard already has three or four restaurants and plans to add several more shortly.

RICHLY GOWNED WOMEN HELD AS BANDITS

New York, March 12.—After a spectacular chase early today, police arrested three fashionably-gowned women on a charge of burglary. Hundreds of persons in the wake of the chase from 31st street and Broadway to 77th street and River side drive witnessed the pursuit.

Many running to cover as police fired ten shots to halt the auto mobile in which the fugitive women were driving.

The women described themselves as Miss Lillian Martin, twenty-one; Mrs. Mary Brown, thirty; and Mrs. Mary Johnson, twenty-five.

The pursuit was initiated by Mrs. Peggy Roth, owner of the Peggy Roth Dress Shop, shortly before midnight. Mrs. Roth ran into the street screaming that the store had been robbed. She pointed to two well-dressed women who were hurrying south in Broadway as Patrolman Remacher of West 100th street station approached.

Remacher commanded an automobile standing at the curb and, accompanied by Mrs. Roth, gave chase.

Before they could be overhauled the two fugitives reached 31st street and West End avenue, where a closed car awaited them. As soon as they entered it a woman at the wheel headed for Riverside Drive at high speed, turning South in the drive, which was thronged with motor vehicles.

Patrolman Remacher, after firing two shots, failed to use his revolver in the crowded avenue, so refrained from firing again until traffic cleared when the car turned towards West End avenue, then he fired eight more bullets. The fugitives came to a halt at 77th street, and were placed under arrest.

During the chase, the car's occupants showered Riverside Drive, 77th street, and West End avenue, with an assortment of dress goods, fur coats, nearly a bushel of expensive hats and other articles of women's apparel.

When questioned at the police station all three women denied guilt. All were identified by Mrs. Roth and by her assistant, Mrs. Croissant, as having visited the clothing shop twice yesterday.

SAVINGS BANK MEN URGED TO CO-OPERATE

"Competition among savings banks should not preclude co-operation. There is room for all. The prosperity and happiness of our people in a large measure, are dependent upon a wise administration of the banks of this country," Joseph C. Allen, commissioner of banks in Massachusetts, told about 300 bankers at a dinner in the Hotel Somerset.

Commissioner Allen pointed out that more than 80 per cent. of the total amount of money in the banks today, approximately $20,000,000,000 is deposited in savings banks. "It is a plea for better investment of the money in the savings banks," he declared that there was no more patriotic investment of savings banks funds than in sustaining families to own their own homes.

After months of suffering Baby's skin trouble healed in one week.

South Hills, Pittsburgh, Pa., March 22.—I certainly knew that I had started to use Rasol Soap and Ointment. I tried for four or five months to cure my baby's skin trouble and scalp trouble—but nothing did any good. Finally, a neighbor recommended Rasol and after using soap and ointment on baby for three days, all the scales fell off and in one week's time the trouble was entirely cured. I will never be without them. My husband uses the Rasol Shaving Stick—he thinks it's the best he's ever used.

When the Story Began

BARBARA made her way from the Ryneck station to Nancy Hartford's house, determined to save her party frock from the snowdrifts. Unable (for certain financial reasons) to take a taxi, she fastens her dress about her waist with a coral girdle. Gus Petrie, one of the guests at the New Year's party, peering through the window, sees a pair of silkstockinged legs plowing determinedly through the snow, and is first to greet Barbara as she arrives. During dinner—

"LIKE what?"

"Truffles!"

"Eh?" He was startled.

"Well, then, I feel as if he had hired the hubad race to breed be." "Don't be too sure he didn't," said Petrie. "He's done something like that in the case of everybody at this table, including you Mr. Petrie."

"Why do you lower your voice? Are you afraid your middle-aged god with the bald spot will blast you with his lightning?"

Mr. Petrie grimaced his disbelief, but accepted the impeachment.

"We're all a bit afraid of J. B. Hardiman's lightning. He pays us to like him a bit—and fear him a lot. He pays well—if that's what you want to know."

She flushed to the implication.

"The cast here add up to that that seemed to burk in his words doesn't want a job," she returned with some asperity and another choked sneeze.

"Can't and Hardiman don't mix."

Uncomfortably he dropped the subject. He had met the eyes that looked out, calmly observant, from under the hedge of eyebrow which overhung J. B.'s rock-brown countenance.

TAX REFUNDS FAVOR CORPORATIONS

Woods' Last Night in Cadiz Kept Police on Jump

BIG INTERESTS WIN IN REFUND OF TAXES

Washington, March 13 (I.N.S.).—Flat charges that big corporations have been favored by the Bureau of Internal Revenue in income tax adjustment whereas smaller claimants have been "stuck" have been laid before the House Committee investigating bureau's affairs. It was disclosed today.

Minority results from granting more liberal amortization allowances to large business organizations than to smaller claimants, L. H. Hanson, counsel for the committee, testified. Big corporations, through the employment of tax experts, often former officials of the bureau, are enabled to get "inside information" with resultant advantageous tax decisions, Hanson declared.

Refuges of the bureau regarding particular tax cases are kept secret, he said, for such a length of time that other taxpayers, unless they have inside information cannot secure similar favorable reductions.

Mr. Hanson, solicitor for the bureau, is quoted as saying that where it was practical the rule laid down in the published rulings of the solicitor is followed, but that where the judgment of the bureau engineers is not practical to follow this published ruling, the rule followed in the Dwyer White case and the United States Steel Corporation case, is followed.

This latter rule never has been published and the taxpayers generally know nothing about it. It is necessary to have inside information to even know there is such a rule to be applied under any circumstances, it is pointed out.

CRIPPLES CURED BY SHRINERS

CRIPPLES MADE HAPPY IN NEW HOSPITAL

Springfield, March 13.—A new hospital, built above the city and around the city, was a place where the bent and twisted of little children a made a bright and beautiful as did in the new Shrine hospital are children who laugh and whose faces grow brighter every day in the knowledge that they will be able to play the same as any normal youngster.

"Buddy," two years old, the darling of the hospital, has a two-year-old in plaster casts but he is as lively and he touches the funny "stockings" crying. He will get well, he knows.

"BUDDY" KNOWS RHYMES. It is nothing to hear Buddy's voice raised, telling nursery rhymes to the rest. He knows dozens of them by heart.

Philip, aged about seven, who has been with wide eyes, crying in quivering about his face.

He was brought to a new hospital. "I have to eat here," he complains. "At home I don't have to eat I do here. It's not much more, and I don't mind."

Grace, aged seven, a victim of her own or of the strain of the war, but she is brave and patient and smiles all the time.

STORIES ON WALSH. To be with a wheelchair. She sits by the radio with intent eyes, makes her forget the iron and the iron on her legs. "The girl's name," she says, "where the music comes from?"

In one of the beautiful rooms are three tiny beds who have just come off the operating table. A nurse stands beside Billy and touches his forehead tenderly. And Billy looks at her adoringly.

Three children, love their nurses and doctors. They are happy in their white coats which are placed near the windows so they can see everything that goes on.

The walls are done in a deep cream color and, joy of joy, Mother Goose rhymes are painted in soft colors all around the top.

There is Red Riding Hood, the Three Bears, Jack and the Three Blind Mice and many others.

Twisted bodies are made straight and little ones crippled at birth or by accident are cured at the new Shrine Hospital near Springfield. The picture shows two cases, typical of the many others being treated at the hospital. Little Ida (top) is confined to a wheel chair but physicians say she will walk again some day. Little Buddy (lower), 2 years old, whose legs are encased in plaster casts, keeps his little fellow officers cheered with a continual chain of nursery rhymes.

ATTEMPTS TO RIDE IN CABARET

Routed Out and Thrown on Freight 10 Minutes Before the Sailing Time

By FRANKLIN C. ANDRETT. (Copyright, 1924, by International News Service)

Cadiz, Spain, March 13.—Lieut. Osborne C. Wood's last night in Cadiz kept like a chapter from an imaginative Hollywood scenario. Only an all-night search by his friends, who finally called for police help, located him barely in time to get him aboard the freighter which is taking him back to America.

Despite the warning of the Madrid office of the International Banking Corporation that it would order his immediate arrest if he did not sail as he had promised, Wood made the boat with only minutes to spare. His friends got him aboard at 7 a. m. Thursday, ten minutes before the West Coast steamer departed.

The young American who left $2,000 in cash in gambling debts in Madrid, according to charges of the Madrid police, went aboard the "Sipho" board freighter Wednesday afternoon. It was a belated start.

FOUND IN CABARET

Hiring another car they made the rounds of the Cadiz streets and after three hours located Wood in the "Three Kings" cabaret. He was surrounded by the entire staff and very angry at the interruption.

You're a bunch of killers," he exclaimed. "You're trying to put a crimp in my last night's pleasure."

He sat his coat and ran from the cafe before they could stop him. Another search of the all-night cafes was fruitless. As but a few hours remained before the boat sailed, Wood's friends were forced to ask for help. The police, familiar with Wood's moves through the night, were assigned an inspector to assist.

Wood finally was located. There was little time to spare. The inspector showed his badge and told Wood: "In the name of the Spanish king, you must follow me to the boat."

Wood followed, without resistance. He walked up the gang plank only a few minutes before it was taken in.

Captain George Lund was forced to repeat his refusal to allow Wood to bring any liquor aboard.

"Not another word, thanks," said Barbara thickly. She wondered if he now gleamed as red outside as it felt inside. "I'll drink to you only with by-ice-water."

He carried on the poor parody. "And I'll take the pledge—in time."

He mixed himself his smooth glass of whiskey from the decanter which, though it had started out as the communal privilege of the dining room at the glittering ball, had come to a definite halt at Petrie's place, like the roulette marble which has found its number.

MEDBURY SAYS—

THE next issue of the telephone book will contain several crossword puzzles so that a man will have something to do while he's waiting for the wrong number.

THE squares will help him find a four letter word to call central when she doesn't return his ticket.

THE telephone company figures that a man will get an interesting puzzle in the puzzle that he'll forget all about his call.

THESE brain twisters are edited by the "Hello" girls themselves. They've heard more crosswords than all the married men put together.

THE solutions are not printed in the book. You have to pay your telephone bill to get the answers.

IF, after you pay your bill, you find your solution is correct, you can ask the company to refund your money.

THE telephone company will give big prizes to the winners. Every man who solves the puzzle correctly will be entitled to one right number.

OF course, there's a loop hole. They claim you're entitled to it, but they don't say you'll get it.

CENTRAL ought to have millions of right numbers on hand because she never gives many of them out.

AND what she doesn't get rid of, she sends to have.

THE telephone company is overstocked with "lines are busy" and "Parties don't answer."

THEY also have plenty of "I'm ringing 'em" and "One moment, please."

BUT the service is improving. Three years ago when you asked for Apartment 2234 you got Madame 1872.

NOW when you want Main 1210 central gives you Main 1202. The service is almost perfect! She only mixes it up one number.

YOU or your friends may not live to see it, but the day is coming when an operator will actually give you the number you ask for.

THESE puzzles in the directory will be mental blisters. They'll bludgeon most of the subscriber's productivity.

THE CHILD AND HOME WORK

By Carolyn Lisberg

Lecturer and Writer on the Bringing Up of Children

SEVERAL parents have asked me this: "Should we pay our children for work they do around the house or grounds?"

This is a matter that father and mother must decide carefully. For their decision may fix forever the child's attitude toward earning money and helping in the work of the home.

I believe the way out of the dilemma is to give the youngster when he reaches school age a weekly allowance to cover carfare and lunches, and leave a small sum over for him to spend voluntarily.

Mr. Forbush, former president of American Institute of Child Life, says: "It is being given the allowance the child must be made to feel that he is a partner in the home and is getting a fair share of the income of the concern. Thus he must understand he has obligations to the home. As a partner he has much to give—a loyal affection, his attention as a learner, his share in the tasks of the household. For this he receives his allowance, his salary, if you please, which increases with his ability to serve as well as with his needs."

"If when there comes to him an extraordinary need or desire he may receive extra salary without modifying the regular arrangement. But keep something in the family. But keep the road clear for them to earn money as occasion arises. The important thing is to keep distinct the two ideas—that of giving service to the home and earning money."

HE TELLS OF A WONDERFUL COLLIE IN SCOTLAND

By Foxy Grandpa.

"Bobby, getting our collie's head while the collie grinned and showed his fine white teeth like collies do when they are pleased."

"Collies are very remarkable dogs, Bobby," I said, "and one of the most useful four-footed servants which man has."

"They watch sheep to Scotland, don't they?" asked Bobby.

"They are real shepherds," I said. "Human shepherds would have a hard time without them. I am going to tell you a true story I once heard about a collie dog in Scotland, Bobby."

Bobby's little face lit up with pleasure at the prospect of a story. He lay his head on Scottie's warm back and looked up with his eyes waiting for me to begin.

"It was a cold, bleak day on the hills of Scotland, and the shepherd who owned this collie could hardly keep himself warm. He pulled his plaid around him and tied his waist tightly around his neck."

"Now, on this cold day, just as the shepherd was about to round up his sheep and take them into the fold, the flock of young lambs which he was caring for, broke into a run before he or his dog could control them and off they started in three bands in three different directions."

"The collie barked and tore off to try to bring them back, but was unsuccessful. He came back to his master and barked nervously."

"The shepherd hurried to the farm with the other sheep, and then he set off to try to find the lost lambs. The collie dog started off with him, but soon they were separated."

"The man searched and searched all night, but saw nothing. He was

Modern mothers know that too much dosing is harmful to a child's delicate stomach.

Vicks comes in salve form and is applied internally—can be freely used without the slightest harmful effect.

For cough and children's colds you rub Vicks over throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. The ingredients—Menthol, Camphor, Eucalyptus, Thyme and Turpentine—are released as vapors by the body heat and inhaled with every breath all night long. At the same time Vicks is absorbed through and stimulates the skin like a poultice or plaster.

Colds go overnight, croup is generally relieved within 15 minutes.

THE CHILD AND HOME WORK

By Carolyn Lisberg

Lecturer and Writer on the Bringing Up of Children

SEVERAL parents have asked me this: "Should we pay our children for work they do around the house or grounds?"

This is a matter that father and mother must decide carefully. For their decision may fix forever the child's attitude toward earning money and helping in the work of the home.

I believe the way out of the dilemma is to give the youngster when he reaches school age a weekly allowance to cover carfare and lunches, and leave a small sum over for him to spend voluntarily.

Mr. Forbush, former president of American Institute of Child Life, says: "It is being given the allowance the child must be made to feel that he is a partner in the home and is getting a fair share of the income of the concern. Thus he must understand he has obligations to the home. As a partner he has much to give—a loyal affection, his attention as a learner, his share in the tasks of the household. For this he receives his allowance, his salary, if you please, which increases with his ability to serve as well as with his needs."

"If when there comes to him an extraordinary need or desire he may receive extra salary without modifying the regular arrangement. But keep something in the family. But keep the road clear for them to earn money as occasion arises. The important thing is to keep distinct the two ideas—that of giving service to the home and earning money."
